ONE SAD INNING TOLD THE TALE

Jacobsen Exploded Like a Russian Bomb.

ADAMS HELD THEM SAFE

Only One Run Made Off Him and That a Homer—Moore Was Strong.

CLEVELAND, July 25.—Cleveland enjoyed a one inning batting machine at the expense of Albert Edward Jacobsen, and before the slaughter was stopped the locals had hammered enough runs across the plate to win in a canter. Score 7 to 1.

After Cleveland had scored six in the opening round, Manager Stahl produced young Adams. This twirler, who has not yet been given a trial through a full game, stopped the batting of the heavy-hitting home team, and in the remaining eight innings but one tally was made off his delivery, and that was a home run swat over the left field fence by Charley Carr in the third.

Moore was on the block for the Napsless Naps, and up to the seventh inning only two Nationals reached first. In this session, however, came Washington's only tally. Hickman drew a pass and Anderson moved him around by hitting for one base. Huelsman was easy on an infield chance, but Stahl came along with his second hit of the game, and Hickman crossed across the plate with the Nationals' only run.

PRESSMEN SPRUNG COMPLETE SURPRISE

Trimmed Cowboy Leaders by 6 to 5. Slugging in Ninth Turned the Tide.

The Pressmen sprung a complete surprise in the Printers' League yesterday by trimming the leading Cowboy team by 6 to 5.

Up to the last inning it looked like a hollow victory for the leaders, but in the final round the Pressmen rallied and by scoring five runs won out.

RALPH ROSE IN FIGHT WITH TRAINER BUTLER

CHICAGO, July 25.—Ralph Rose, the California giant, who recently defeated Trainer Butler, of the Chicago Athletic Association Portland squad, in a fierce encounter late Saturday night, has been forgiven by the trainer and will accompany the truck team to Portland.

The row arose because Trainer Butler demanded that Rose shake off some of his laziness, and in the ensuing argument Rose sat upon him and bit him severely. Rose said today he was disgusted with Eastern colleges and athletic methods and would much prefer to go to some California school, where he would have an opportunity to study and do a little in the athletic line as a side issue, instead of making athletics the sole purpose in attending college.

When the Nationals were in St. Louis complaint was made that certain members of the club were not faithful, but since that time it has become notorious, and unless there is a shakeup pretty shortly there will be little or no hope of pulling out of the cellar this season.

COMMENT ON YESTERDAY'S GAMES

GUNTON-ST. STEPHEN'S.

St. Stephen's narrowly averted a shut-out. Woodward dropped the ball after Bielaski had made a quick throw catching Hayden at the plate.

Eddie Asquith put up one of his best games at third base, all of his plays being executed with remarkable ease and grace.

Macdonald played first base after first inning, and demonstrated that St. Stephen's has been doing the wrong thing in not having him there all season.

Willis did well at second, considering the fact that he is an outfielder.

"Dick" Woodward treated the fans to one of his old-time exhibitions of batting. Five hits out of six many times to the bat is certainly a fine record.

Miller was unable to get his fingers on any of the grounders which came down his way.

Kinney has not made a single error in the seven games he has played with Gunton, and he has accepted some mighty hard chances.

Bruce Bielaski made one of the best plays of the game when he stopped Macdonald's fierce grounder in deep short and forced Hayden at second.

Hutchinson hurt himself sliding into second in the fourth inning, but pitched the game out.

Colley and McCormick were new faces on the St. Stephen's team.

Guntion took a rest after the second inning, and scored almost at will thereafter.

ST. VINCENT-ST. MARTIN.

A pretty rally assisted by the loser's errors gave St. Martin a big lead in the eighth.

Bernie Gallagher pitched a nice game for St. Martin. Although he was touched up for eight hits he kept them scattered and in the nine innings fanned a dozen batters. Besides, he got two hits.

Shaffer's work around second was one of the features of the day. He got everything that came his way, accepting in all seven chances.

Dugan, St. Martin's right fielder, is now regarded as one of the most reliable sluggers in the league. Every day he gets a brace of hits, but yesterday he smacked out three, one of which was a triple. He is not so much when it comes to fielding, but his batting makes up for that weakness.

The large number of stolen bases still continues. Yesterday there were no less than seven sacks pilfered.

If immaculate wins this afternoon's games with St. Patrick the eighth street team will be tied for fourth place.

ST. STEPHEN'S-COLUMBIA A. C.

The revenge for St. Stephen was sweet as it has been noised about for some time that Columbia was the better team and had a good chance for the lead.

McCarron had Columbia completely at his mercy and let it down with two singles. He had only four strike-outs, but most of the batters simply batted the sphere into the outstretched hands of the St. Stephen fielders.

Shorty Hughes was the star with the bat. He smashed out one double and two singles.

Carroll at first base had a busy day. He scooped up eighteen chances and rapped out a home run.

St. Stephen's two errors were charged

Grim Down Nine Times, But Stayed the Limit

Marvelous Italian Stood Off Jack Johnson for Six Rounds—Saved by Bell in Last Session—Holds the Record.

By JOE GRIM:

I am still the great champion. None of them can put me out. I offered Johnson $300 if he could do it. Jeffries does not have to retire. I am still ready to fight him. My jaw is sore, but I was always ready to fight the big coon. He has an awful punch, but I knew that I could take all he gave me.

By JACK JOHNSON:

If that last round had lasted one minute longer I'm sure the Italian would have been counted out. They had to carry him to his corner when the bell saved him, and I know if I got another right in I would have stowed him away for good. He's a marvel, though—the toughest man I ever punched in my life.

By REFEREE MCGUIGAN:

That was as close a call as Grim ever had. Johnson had him spread all over the ring in the last round. I thought that Grim was done for, but he managed to get up somehow. He is still as great a little man as ever.

By TAD.

PHILADELPHIA, July 25.—The bell changed last night at the National Athletic Club in the sixth round amid the wildest excitement ever seen at a fight.

Joe Grim, the sturdy Italian who has faced the greatest men in the world without being counted out, had met Jack Johnson, and it looked as though he had met his Waterloo. He was down for the tenth time in that round, and lay there writhing in pain, hunched around the ring helpless and coatless, yelling like mad, his seconds running around throwing water and begging him to try and get up, and the referee counting eight, just as the bell sounded, and saved Grim from what looked to be certain defeat. He stayed the limit with the giant black man, but every speck of gameness was brought to play to land him on his feet.

Like Hamburger Steak.

It was a sight that a seldom sees, and one that will linger long in the memory of the people. Grim had fought gamely for five rounds. He took terrific lefts on the body, nose, and mouth without flinching, and went to his corner round after round looking more like a hamburger steak than a human being. He came up smiling from what looked to be certain defeat. He stayed the limit with the giant black man, but every speck of gameness was brought to play to land him on his feet.

Big Johnson, looming up like a mountain of ebony, smiled, but in back of that smile was a grimace. He was the Italian wonder. As they squared off the big black giant rushed and drove his head into Grim's jaw. Joe's head rolled back, he went down slowly, and then rolled over on his back.

Four seconds carried the disabled fighter to his corner, where he was worked on until he came to and then he got up smiling, looked for Johnson, and shook hands with him. Johnson's eyes were sticking out and he was as rattled as any man in the house, seeing how near he had come to putting the Italian down for the limit.

They say that Kid Carter, Dave Holly and Fitzsimmons had the con of Italy almost as bad, but it hardly seems possible. Even as he left the ring his legs were wobbling and he was still dazed from the terrible punishment. If there is a man in the world who can put the brave Italian out, he is yet to be seen. His list now includes Maher, Holly, Fitzsimmons, Walcott, Buddy Ryan, Gans, Johnson, Carter, and a few other less notable all of whom failed to put him out.

ALOYSIUS AGAIN GAINED VICTORY

Downed National A. C. by 9 to 4. Walker Couldn't Stop Batting Rallies of Opponents.

The Aloysius club continued its winning streak by getting action out of the National Athletics by 9 to 4.

Walker found it impossible to stop the winners, who by hits in the eighth they beat the game out of question by scoring three runs.

There were thirteen stolen bases due to the slowness of the pitchers and catchers, rather than the speed of the base runners.

PROGRESS OF MILLINERY.

Ten years ago only a really wealthy or exceptionally extravagant woman would expect to pay more than, say, a couple of guineas for a best hat; but now anything from three and one-half to six guineas is not considered out of the way, while from three to five guineas to thirty-five shillings or so represents the cost of everyday toques or simple hard-wear hats. Country Gentlemen,

I was suffering from impure blood and a general run-down condition of the system. I had no appetite, was losing flesh, and an all-gone tired feeling that made me miserable. I began the use of S. S. S. and my blood was restored to its normal, healthy condition. My appetite returned, I increased in weight, that "tired feeling" left and I was again myself.

Columbus, Ohio. VICTOR STUBBINS, Cor. Barthman and Washington Aves.

With the coming of Spring and warm weather the blood is aroused and stirred to quicker action and in its effort to throw off these acids and poisons the skin suffers. Boils, pimples, blotches, rashes and eruptions break out and continue until the blood is cleansed and made pure. S. S. S. is the ideal remedy for this condition; it clears the blood of all impurities, makes it rich and strong and these skin troubles pass away. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Chronic Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison and all other diseases of the blood are cured by S. S. S. Book on the blood and any advice desired, free of charge.
